

Windstorm Plays Havoc, Causing Much Damage

55-Mile-An-Hour Gale Hit Lacombe Last Thursday in Worst Storm Since 1931; Many Telephone Poles Toppled Over

High velocity winds swept across the Province last Thursday night, one of the worst wind storms on record. Reaching as high as 45 miles an hour at Lacombe, recorded by the Dominion Experimental Station, the blast swept everything in its wake, causing a considerable amount of widespread damage. In its pathway trees, fences, poles, granaries, chimneys, small sheds, etc., were toppled over and destroyed, with soil drifting back on some aerages. The whipping gale smothered the town in dust, leaving piles of rubbish on every corner, and brought business to a standstill. The worst was the worst wind storm to be recorded in Lacombe, since May 2, 1931, when a 60-mile gale blew.

M.D. of Lamer Holds Meeting

Routine business was the order of the day at the regular meeting of M.D. of Lamerton No. 1, held at 7:30 p.m. May 14, which did not conclude until last evening. All councillors were present, and newly elected members, who had just taken the oath of office. Following representations made by a member of Salisbury, the council voted $100 to be made to that body. A by-law to provide for the execution of an agreement between the township and the Community Hospital was given third reading and adopted.

A letter from the S.S. school principal asking for an additional $100 was also read.

Telephone poles were blown itself out in a day's time. Telephone poles were blown over and broken off. On the Gall Lake highway west of Lamerton, one pole was blown over, while between Bentley and Rimbey 55 went over; east, between here and Alex, 45 were down, and the number between Bentley and Rimbey was increased with 50. North of the town the wind took its toll of 12 poles from Morningside to Ponoka. Telephone communication was disrupted.

The Canadian Junior College, two miles north of town, was Without power connections from Thursday noon to the same time Friday, when four power poles were cut down, the boiler room at the Creamery was lifted off and the power lines were severed.

Seed Blown Out

In some fields of sandy loam seeded grain was blown out and will necessitate re-seeding, which will be done as soon as possible.

A Fitting Reward

THAT the fight put up by the Alberta daily and weekly newspapers to preserve the freedom of the press should be recognized by the American School of Journalism is a most outstanding honor. The importance of this fight brought to these newspapers the highest recognition by being given the Pulitzer award, for their defence of the freedom of the press.

It was the first time such an award has been made outside the United States, which is for the best achievement of public service. Such freedom should remain inviolate, as well as free speech, which is the foundation of true democracies.

The award gives to the Edmonton Journal, which through its managing director, John M. Murrie, took a leading part in the fight, a bronze plaque, and all other daily and weekly newspapers in the Province, who took part in that defence were awarded engraved certificates. Various bodies throughout Alberta have also appreciated the service rendered by Alberta newspapers, the latest being one from the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, which reads as follows:

"Dear Mr. Editor:—At the meeting of the Council of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce May 14th, the following resolution was passed:

"Resolved that letters expressing the appreciation of the members of this Council, speaking on behalf of the entire membership of the Chamber of Commerce, be sent to the Edmonton Journal, the other daily newspapers of Alberta, and each of the weekly newspapers of Alberta, for the unprecedented recognition and honor bestowed on them by the Pulitzer Advisory Committee and the Trustees of Columbia University for their leadership in the defence of the freedom of the press in the Province of Alberta and for their courageous and effective fight against the Alberta Press Act.

"That Mr. John M. Murrie, Managing Director of the Edmonton Journal, be congratulated on the very admirable and happy speech made in New York in accepting the awards on behalf of the newspapers of Alberta;

"And further, that a letter of appreciation be sent to Dean Ackerman of the Columbia School of Journalism, congratulating the Columbia University on the press of both Canada and the United States.

Serving a District

(From the Red Deer Advocate)

WITH its issue of April 28th, The Western Globe of Lacombe became The Lacombe Globe. In his announcement of the change of name, Mr. H. J. Ford, the publisher, pointed out some of the advantages to the Town and District of having the name of the Town incorporated in the title of the paper. Mr. Ford's idea is to serve Lacombe Town and District to the best of his ability, and he feels that the change of name will help to that end.

The Advocate heartily agrees with this view. When F. W. Galbraith purchased this paper in 1906 it was called The Alberta Advocate. One of the first acts of the new proprietor was to change the name to The Red Deer Advocate, which it has carried ever since. In the announcement of the change, the publisher said that he was being none the less loyal to Alberta, but that he believed his duty to the Town and District could be done better under the new title, and that is still the opinion of the Advocate people.

Out of ninety papers published in this Province, hardly half a dozen leave the name of their Town or District out of their title. A weekly newspaper is an important part of the life of its community and should carry that community's name in its title, the Advocate thinks. Then wherever the paper goes, the name of the Town goes, and both district and paper benefit.

During the two years and a half the Globe has been under Mr. Ford's direction, it has been transformed into one of the best weekly newspapers in the Province, and the Advocate is sure the people of Lacombe and District will cordially endorse the change of name.

A Top-Notch Industry

THE people of Alberta are at least beginning to realize that the Turner Valley oil field constitutes a huge industry, of which Albertans can be justly proud. It is a natural resource that is being well developed. Recently released production figures for the year 1937 tell a remarkable story and reveal that the Turner Valley field is no longer the cats-paw for smooth-tongued promoters (as it was in the boom of 1914) but an established industry, producing daily huge quantities of both crude oil and naphtha, giving employment, directly and indirectly, to thousands of persons.

In 1937 drilling in the Valley increased 450 per cent and the peak month of July found thirty-two wells drilling. Rising steadily throughout the

Through the Eyes of a Country Woman

By BRIDGET

Recently the English papers have been full of a question that I thought was as dead as the Dodo, but one which is really of paramount interest to all women. It is, should women be allowed free access to all clerical jobs? In fact the question who started this campaign is hardly announced, "Sack all the women." He has formed a "National Men's Defence League" to resist woman's "invasion" of the labor market. Personally I think there is something very humorous about the whole thing. This man—please meet him—is a Mr. Pinkerton Bristol, and he challenges the three million odd women employed in offices and professions once considered man's exclusive problem, to down tools! What on earth does he expect? Does he think that three million men will take up the challenge, and ask the three million women to stand? For a piece of brilliant reasoning, this takes the prize.

Twenty years ago, this was a vexed question, and it was very thoroughly thrashed out by the Press and every organization under the sun. During the Great War, when men were needed for cannon fodder, women, willy nilly, had to step in. The men who had previously considered their monopoly. The rub of the whole affair was that the majority of women did the job well, and in some instances better than the men had done.

When the war was over, the remnant of Britain's manhood returned and wanted their jobs back, and in many cases got them, but found to their amazement women working beside them on an equal footing and in some cases women in charge over them, doing excellent work.

The Battle of the Sexes began. Most of the women did not fight to keep their jobs because they wished to keep a man out of work, but because their bread-winner had gone, and they had to have a job to keep body and soul together. Men were amazed—women were there in their own right—women then threw down a challenge and asked for equal pay and equal opportunity. This challenge was an answer to men's accusations that women were undercutting them. The very people who should have backed them in this—clerks and professional men—would not help them. Were they afraid? I rather think so.

This fight for Equality did not go far enough—the Civil Service was reorganized to a certain degree to allow for this, but it is interesting to note that no woman was discharged despite the rise in salaries.

So what? Women had learned to be bread-winners in men's own sphere; in spheres where men had had the monopoly for hundreds of years. Now, twenty years after, another man is leading a campaign, which he hopes will become world wide, "Sack all women"—another is rehashing the old slogan, "Equal pay and equal opportunity," in the hope that many females will lose their jobs. This man apparently doesn't know this was just what the women wanted twenty years ago, and it did not then, and it will not now, cost a woman a job.

There is such a surplus of woman in England that millions must work and fend for themselves, unless they resort to the barbarian custom of killing most of the girl babies. Please don't think I'm envious, but this sort of baldheaded, saying women must not work, makes one become equally unreasonable. Why should every girl be brought up with the idea that she must prepare for an unpaid housekeeper's job?

In most countries this is impossible anyway, but in Alberta women are in the minority, so they should have better opportunities. But it is more in the accepted traditions of the woman's sphere—nursing, teaching, etc. Rapidly these professions are getting overcrowded and we mothers are faced in almost the same way with the same problem. "What shall we do with our daughters?" They want jobs, which spell for them freedom, spending money and often necessities. Very few achieve much fame in this country, the reason being that as there are no surplus-girls, they get snapped up in marriage before they get a chance in their chosen field.

Only one country has successfully ousted women from business and the field of commerce and that is Germany. Herr Hitler has no use for the female population except as housekeepers and mothers—but apparently they are well able to look after their surplus women.

What about starting a campaign for "Wages for Wives?" (I believe Mrs. Roosevelt is in favor of this), and perhaps then we will have more efficient and ambitious housewives and less women holding down men's jobs. Perhaps!

year, production finally reached 394,893 barrels for December; for the whole year 2,767,221 barrels of crude and naphtha, worth approximately $5,000,000, were produced—truly a remarkable achievement!

Beginning in September of 1937, production was introduced in order that all companies, big and small, should have their share in the market available, and there have been few real complaints against this provision, for the large majority of oil operators realize that to flood the market by unlimited production would bring chaos to the whole industry. It produces a big income to the Provincial Treasury that other Governments have not enjoyed.

Thus Turner Valley moves on—producing oil, giving employment, paying dividends and taking its place among Canada's top-notch industries.

Do You Know?

T. F. ROBERTS,

who was born in Flintshire, North Wales, in the year 1876? One of a family of six, Mr. Roberts was raised on his father's farm, and received his education in North Wales and later in England. Upon leaving school, he served five years apprenticeship in electrical engineering near Liverpool. When his time had expired, Mr. Roberts, after working for about six months in England, travelled to the States, arriving in Pennsylvania in 1899. He took a position in the Westinghouse factory at Pittsburgh at that year, and for the next six years was engaged with that firm.

In 1905, Mr. Roberts left Pennsylvania to have a look at Western Canada, and travelled through Lacombe in that year in company with his father. The next year, 1906, Mr. Roberts moved to Lacombe, and purchased his present farm, two miles north and two miles east of town, from James Clarke. His father also settled in the district in 1906, working the farm now known as the Finlay Watson place.

Mr. Roberts operated his farm until 1922, at which time he left farming to come to Lacombe, where he entered the electrical and plumbing business, a business which he still runs. He still, however, keeps control of the farm, which is operated on a share basis.

Mr. Roberts was married, in 1914, to Miss M. E. Tibbott. He has been president of the Lacombe Constituency Social Credit League since 1934, and was active in the organizing of this constituency, one of the first districts to have an organized Social Credit League. Previous to this, Mr. Roberts had been one of the oldest U.F.A. members of the Province. His favorite hobby is the study of economics.

Dear Sir:—Would you please find room for the following except from Hansard of May 3, 1938:

MR. JAUQUES: Might I suggest that the problem is not so much one of unemployment as one of getting paid for employment. There is no difficulty in finding work; the difficulty is in finding money to pay for the work. In that connection I should like to read a short extract which I have just read in the Art of Central Banking, by Mr. R. G. Hawtrey, who is secretary to the British treasury. He says:

"The common factor in pre-war, and post-war, experience is the inability of the consumer to state of trade with the enlargements and compressions of consumer income and they affected by central banks. If this fundamental causal sequence were understood, the public would hardly acquiesce in the central banks proceeding from their position of complacent detachment to generate depression, unemployment, bankruptcy, budget deficits and defaults, with all the resulting political and social convulsions while government after government is broken because it can neither stem the

TURNER VALLEY FIELDS LAVISHLY ADD TO NATIONAL WEALTH

The Turner Valley oil field may play the role of Santa Claus for the nation to the tune of $10,000,000 for the year 1938.

Production in the field last year had a value of approximately $5,000,000, a welcome addition to the national wealth. This was not merely the result of drilling a number of oil wells. It was the result of patient and costly search for oil in the west, and the sequel to an efficient application of co-operation on the part of the pipe lines, railways, and refiners, as the oil business has ever been able to record.

By this co-operation the producers, the transport agencies, and the refiners, made it possible for the prairie consumer to get his supplies of light petroleum products at substantially reduced prices. Some $5,000,000 was saved to consumers in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba this year because of lower prevailing prices. This computation assumes that consumption this year will be the same as in 1937. If it is larger, the benefit will be proportionately greater.

Even though it only equals that of 1937, and that production in the Turner Valley is only as large as last year, there will be a net benefit of more than $10,000,000 to the country.

Settling the West With the Rimbeys

By VIOLA MACDONALD

Away back in 1899, when the first pioneers were beginning to settle on land in the fertile valley of the Blindman River, west of Gull Lake, there came from the State of Kansas a trio of brothers—Jim, Sam and Ben Rimbey, whose family name was destined to go down in the history of Alberta. For it was in honor of these men that the present town of Rimbey, 33 miles northwest of Lacombe, was named.

A fourth brother, John, chose a location closer to Lacombe and continues to reside on his farm, southwest of the town.

The Rimbeys, who with their families, their friends and their friends' families made up a colony that numbered 300 souls, came on a special immigration train made up of five passenger coaches and 14 box cars. They left the train at Lacombe, the jumping-off place for the west country—and in sleighs and wagons trekked out into the wilderness that was destined to become their future home.

It was early Spring. Half way across Gull Lake (they crossed on the ice) a halt was occasioned because a cow had given birth to a calf. But Sam Rimbey, leader of the expedition, tells of how he loaded the new member into the wagon—driven by Mrs. Rimbey—and the journey continued, without much loss of time.

Many other interesting stories tell of the jumping of homestead claims, of cattle rustlers whose hides were worn in corners of of Brazuca; of the struggle of those early pioneers to procure educational facilities for their children; of the rival factions headed by the Rimbeys and a man named Shelby Reed—a real two-gun plainsman from South Dakota, who on one occasion came to a rangers' meeting of the school district armed to the teeth and whom the Rimbeys had hauled into police court at Lacombe; and of Justice of the Peace Talbot (later Senator Talbot) let him off with a fine and a warning. That was back in 1903.

flood of ruin nor even provide tolerable palliatives to alleviate the consequences."

MR. JAUQUES: When I previously read this quotation in the house, on February 28, I went on to say:

"The fact is that neither side can do anything until parliament regains control of the issue of currency and credit. The Minister of Finance (Mr. Dunning) can shake his head—"

MR. DUNNING: We have control of it right here. That is why I shake my head.

MR. JAUQUES: Since that was said, I read a quotation out of the Financial Post. This is a report of what was said by Mr. J. A. C. Robarts, deputy governor of the Bank of Canada, when speaking in this city recently to the Junior Board of Trade. The report states:

"He outlined to them the functions of the central bank. He pointed out that in many countries the policy of the government was the policy of the central bank, and declared that a respectable central bank would accept from its government a policy which it differed fundamentally."

MR. JAUQUES: I might suggest, we have an ultra respectable central bank in Canada.

NORMAN JAUQUES, House of Commons, Ottawa, May 11, 1938.

Government Ministers Touring Saskatchewan

capital, Dominion confidence and public initiative.

While the Federal Government was weighing disallowance of the Alberta debts, the Alberta Government was pointing its energies into Saskatchewan, leading the Social Credit party's political campaign there. Premier Aberhart to jump from town to town in Saskatchewan, shouting for support for his party in the approaching election there. Early indications were that he would not have things all his own way, for many of the electors in the sister Province are acquainted with the Aberhart Government's record of impossible administration in Alberta.

Twas No Surprise

It was no surprise to the Legislative Buildings in Edmonton when Hon. E. C. Manning left his office here, and the Province, to devote full energies to Saskatchewan as Social Credit campaign manager there. Nor did it cause any surprise when Premier Aberhart, Hon. Lucien Maynard and others followed him. The speeches here at the time of the East Edmonton Federal campaign, when Mr. Aberhart and the others condemned Dominion cabinet ministers for daring to come to Alberta and speak in a political campaign for a Federal seat, were remembered, of course. But even when Mr. Aberhart and the others were making these speeches, it was known that they were planning to invade Saskatchewan on speaking tours.

Public protest against the production tax is growing throughout Alberta, judging by reports received here, and Mr. Aberhart himself and some of his supporters, have adopted strange defenses. They said that the tax wouldn't apply to things like butter and milk. But the act specifically says that dairy products, like everything else produced on a farm, are to be taxed. They said that the tax would not apply to goods exchanged between farmers or sold direct to consumers, but the act says that everyone producing and selling or dealing in any way with farm products must pay the tax.

Moves to the Macdonald

Hon. J. C. Bowen, Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, moved out of Government House last week and into a room at the Macdonald Hotel—the same hotel where Premier Aberhart resides. They both attended the University convocation last Saturday, the Premier driving in his Government-bought limousine, driven by his chauffeur, and the Lieutenant-Governor arriving in a private taxi. But it was the Lieutenant-Governor who seemed the producer. Government House has been locked up, because no new use has been found for it. Even the gates to the grounds are locked, so that no one can get in even to see the gardens.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
At all Christian Science churches next Sunday, the subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Soul and Body." One of the Scriptural quotations in the Lesson-Sermon is II Corinthians 3:18, "But we all, who are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord." One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, is: "Soul is the substance, Life, and intelligence of man, which is individualized, but not in matter. Soul can never reflect anything inferior to Spirit" (p. 477).

SUNNY CREST.—A. McNeill has been helping Wm. Swanson move the house he recently bought. They found four tractors not sufficient, so they had to leave the building in the road. They also on getting a caterpillar tractor to finish the job.

Marlin Connolly hooked up his horses, made one round in the field, when one of his horses staggered, then fell dead. Several weeks back, Les Saunders had one pass out the same way. The veterinarian says it was heart failure.

Miss Connie Carter spent the week-end with friends in Carstairs.

John Bradley has been busy rounding up spuds for a shipment from Aspen, Tom Spink assisting in hauling with his truck.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. Deb. Riley and baby are home from Ponoka Hospital and are doing nicely. They are living on the Riley place.

Rev. and Mrs. F. Coxson and family, Mr. H. Woods, Hazel and David were visitors to the Mendonbrook service Sunday afternoon last. Mr. and Mrs. Hurch entertained them at Sunday supper.

After being very low on Sunday, J. Fisher is rallying from his last heart attack. The doctor and friends hope the crisis is over.

Need for Trees Shown

Ervin Gottschalk has set out some spruce in front of his home. The recent high winds and dust storms prove how badly we need one tree planted for every one cut down. In many places the soil on farms lay in debris, over the roadway fences. Telephone poles are down and many small buildings were blown over. Some fields of wheat were laid bare, with the wheat seed in sight on the top. However, Tuesday's rain will revive the struggling roots, and the crop will come ahead.

When Mr. Coxson had nicely started to put up one end of the barn at Barr's, along came the storm and blew it down, the builders running to shelter in the shed.

Sunday evening, May 15, there was a christening service at the Lincoln Hall, when Rev. F. Coxson christened the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Barr.

At Sunny Crest on Sunday, May 22, Sunday School will be held at 10:30 a.m., with preaching at 11:30 a.m. by Rev. F. Coxson.

DON'T OVER-RATE YOUR BANKER

He cannot perform Miracles

There would be more banks than grocery stores all over Canada if banks could perform the miracle of "creating" the means of payment out of nothing.

It is easy to confuse these two things:

- (a) The business of commercial banking, and
- (b) Control of a nation's monetary system.

Commercial banking has to do with the safe-keeping and lending of money and credit.

Control of a monetary system is a matter of national, governmental policy.

Chartered banks finance production and commerce.

Monetary policy in any country is a matter for the national government itself, either directly, or through a central bank.

The Dominion Parliament established Canada's central bank in 1934 — the Bank of Canada. Its purpose was declared by Parliament in the very first paragraph of the Act of Incorporation, as follows:

"To regulate credit and currency in the best interests of the economic life of the nation, to control and protect the external value of the national monetary unit and to mitigate by its influence fluctuations in the general level of production, trade, prices and employment so far as may be possible within the limits of monetary action, and generally to promote the economic and financial welfare of the Dominion."

It is for governments alone to determine a nation's monetary policy. Differing conditions of debt and trade may make what is wise for one country unwise for another.

Printing "tickets" — as currency has been called in some sections — entirely out of production would make everything you buy cost you more. A Canadian woman living in Germany during that country's inflation in 1923 had to pay 65,000,000 marks for an overcoat, and later 1,000,000,000 marks for a postage stamp! The business of commercial banking is something to be considered by itself, apart from national banking.

A commercial bank takes deposits. There are two kinds of them. For convenience, call them "savings" and "current." Say you are a workman, or a farmer. After you've paid your living costs out of your wage, or out of the proceeds of your crop, you have some dollars left over. Because you do not want to spend them at once you deposit them in a savings account.

That is a savings deposit. As distinguished from this is the "current" account. Say you are a merchant. You have expenses to meet day by day and therefore always carry a balance in an account against which you issue cheques for your business needs.

That is a current account. Let us say you have $100 in that account and you need $1,000 to meet some bills. You borrow it from the bank. You give the manager your note and he places $1,000 to your credit as a deposit in your

(From Our Own Correspondent)

WESTLING. — Swedish Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. Eddie Westling on Friday, May 13, with a large attendance. Mr. and Mrs. George Monson and Mr. and Mrs. F. Billingshield motored to Red Deer last Thursday.

Mrs. Eric Westling has been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Wallin, at Tees.

Mrs. R. Haskins and Mrs. V. Winter entertained a large number of friends at bridge Wednesday afternoon, May 11th. Prizes were won by Mrs. David Will, first; Mrs. Somerville, second, and Mrs. D. Mack, consolation prize.

Miss Mabel Westling has gone to Mirror, having accepted a position there.

Matt Zacharak of Mirror spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Westling.

Johnson unfortunately is suffering from a broken leg. The accident happened when he was going up between two coils. However, he is managing to get around and hopes are expressed for his speedy recovery.

Pulpit Pounding Bill

If you ask me for a story, I'll tell you one that's true: Of the Premier we've elected And the thing he's tried to do, Once the people of Alberta Lived in harmony with all, Till a pulpit pounding teacher Egged them onward to a faith.

True, hard times were in the offing, And relief ranks grew apace; But "wild Bill" with all his raving, Not one burden did erase.

Poverty smited the plenty, Was his favorite Sunday theme, "Trust in Me and God and Manning, And just listen to our scheme."

"Food and clothing, yes, and shelter, Are the things we promise you And we'll give you twenty dollars, Which we think should see you through."

But you say we'll have to labor For to get these dividends? Don't be foolish, 'Yin your Saviour And I've got a fountain pen.

Money is just so much honey; Banks can make it out of debts, So can we, if you but let us, And we're passing up no bets. So he got his pen to working, But it seems the ink was dry.

And the thing that he accomplished Would not dot the letter "I." Now this story has a moral, And 'twill do you good to heed.

Trust not them that pound the pulpit, Always judge them by the deed. —Barney, in the Black Diamond Flare.

Nifty Head-dress

(From Our Own Correspondent)

BENTLEY. — Percy Thorp is down from Grande Prairie for a few days.

Jack Johnson left Thursday for Winfield, where he expects to stay for the summer.

A good number were out on Tuesday last at the monthly meeting of the Bentley Garden Club. Mrs. Butcher gave a very instructive paper on the planting and care of the garden.

The Young People's Society, the C.G.I.T. girls and Tuxis boys sponsored a social evening at the United Church on Friday evening last, when they entertained their Mothers and Dads. Community singing, games, etc., were followed by lunch, and all report a pleasant evening.

Going to Grande Prairie Mr. and Mrs. Harold Veefkind and family visited here last week at the home of Mr. Veefkind's mother, on route from Rimbey to their new home at Grande Prairie. They left on Thursday and friends here wish them a safe journey and success in the coming years.

Bentley merchants are this year observing the weekly half-holiday. Beginning last week and continuing to the end of August, stores will be closed at 12 o'clock noon on Thursdays, with the exception of any week in which a statutory holiday occurs.

Mrs. Olaf Miner of the Lockhart district recently left for a visit of several months to Sweden, sailing on Friday last from New York, via the Baltic Line. Mrs. Lulu Thorp is having her cottage, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. F. Marriot, improved by a coat of stucco.

Russell Garries has begun improvements on the residence property which he bought from Jess Evernden. When finished, it will occupy it. The C. Trimble family, who have been occupying the house, moved last week to the new Woolgar cottage.

Births at the hospital last week were: To Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Davron of Bentley on May 11, a daughter, To Mr. and Mrs. A. Kemmis of Rimbey on May 13, a son, To Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Van Weel of Bentley, a daughter, May 13. To Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Anderson of Bentley on May 15, a daughter.

The village council is at work with the annual improvements. This spring they are making some much-needed improvements to the streets, some of which have been being done for the first time.

Mrs. W. M. Sanders from Calgary visited with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. Sanders, for a few days last week.

June Ebert was rushed to the Lacombe Hospital last Tuesday evening, where she was operated on for appendicitis. June is now getting along nicely and everyone is pulling for her speedy recovery.

Mrs. Kayser and Mrs. Irvine, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Craik, returned to Calgary after spending a couple of weeks with their parents.

League Is Formed At a meeting Saturday night a three-team hardball league was formed, including Sargent, Tees and Nebraska. Two games a week will be played, to start May 22 at Tees, between Tees and Sargent. All teams have pretty fair line-ups for stick teams and the games should be exciting.

Another meeting will be held later, when a president will be chosen and the schedule passed on.

Saturday night's dance was very well attended by boys, but girls were at a premium and those there were verily danced off their feet.

Last week the weather was so windy and dusty that the ladies softball team cancelled its games. They still had to clean the grit out of clothes and eyes, though.

The hardball team is sponsoring a big box social and dance on Friday, May 27, at the local hall. Ladies are requested to bring boxes and gentlemen their pocket books. A large crowd is anticipated, as seating should be completed by that time and the young folks will have a pleasant lull before starting their farm work.

The committee charge hopes for the best as it is the only way they have of raising the necessary money to buy badly needed ball equipment to carry on the season with.

The school boys are busy these days catching suckers to plant in their sweet pea beds. We sure should see plenty of good sweet peas this year. So far the boys have had very good luck, as there seems to be plenty running in the creek. No pike or other kinds of more eatable fish have started to run yet — at least none have been caught since the season opened.

Local gardeners, with the exception of the Scribe, have most of their gardens in. The exception is still busy knocking the earth out of quick grass roots.

Seeding Nearly Finished Eighty-five to 90 per cent of wheat seeding has been completed. Very little of the coarse grains, if any, have been seeded yet.

Harry Moore returned Monday afternoon by train from Montana, where he has been visiting the past six months. "Harry" is an old-timer of the Tees district but has not actively farmed for several years. His land is cultivated by his eldest son, Bernie.

The softball girls are still raising a little money. Last Saturday a few of them brought in fresh cream and made a batch of ice cream. This noon sold out, being licked up by a gang who liked their apple pie a-la-mode and children who liked cones. They also served lunch for the dancers.

Bentley

(From Our Own Correspondent)

BENTLEY. — Percy Thorp is down from Grande Prairie for a few days.

Jack Johnson left Thursday for Winfield, where he expects to stay for the summer.

A good number were out on Tuesday last at the monthly meeting of the Bentley Garden Club. Mrs. Butcher gave a very instructive paper on the planting and care of the garden.

The Young People's Society, the C.G.I.T. girls and Tuxis boys sponsored a social evening at the United Church on Friday evening last, when they entertained their Mothers and Dads. Community singing, games, etc., were followed by lunch, and all report a pleasant evening.

Going to Grande Prairie Mr. and Mrs. Harold Veefkind and family visited here last week at the home of Mr. Veefkind's mother, on route from Rimbey to their new home at Grande Prairie. They left on Thursday and friends here wish them a safe journey and success in the coming years.

Bentley merchants are this year observing the weekly half-holiday. Beginning last week and continuing to the end of August, stores will be closed at 12 o'clock noon on Thursdays, with the exception of any week in which a statutory holiday occurs.

Mrs. Olaf Miner of the Lockhart district recently left for a visit of several months to Sweden, sailing on Friday last from New York, via the Baltic Line. Mrs. Lulu Thorp is having her cottage, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. F. Marriot, improved by a coat of stucco.

Russell Garries has begun improvements on the residence property which he bought from Jess Evernden. When finished, it will occupy it. The C. Trimble family, who have been occupying the house, moved last week to the new Woolgar cottage.

THE LACOMBE GLOBE, Thursday, May 19, 1938

HERE ARE THE PERFORMANCE FACTS:
The exclusive Chevrolet Six Valve-in-Head engine develops its full 85 horsepower—without extra, gasoline-hungry cylinders! Recent road tests have again demonstrated this Valve-in-Head superiority. In these tests,* the 1938 Chevrolet out-performed the other cars in its class with faster hill-climbing—and faster acceleration through every speed range.

AND HERE ARE THE ECONOMY FACTS:
Owners report getting as high as 25 and 27 miles to the gallon of gas, consistently. They're unanimous in saying that the new Chevrolet saves them money on oil. And, as many point out, Chevrolet costs less than any other car for upkeep.

BUT JUDGE FOR YOURSELF. Come to our showrooms, take the wheel, and let your own driving reactions tell you, "It's wise to choose the Chevrolet SIX for power plus economy."

*Your dealer will gladly show you the actual results of the tests. Ask him.

Fire Causes Little Damage

Causing some little excitement, the fire siren was sounded last Monday morning about 11 o'clock and the fire brigade was called out to quench a fire in the rear of the A. M. Campbell residence.

Warning to Dog Owners and Cyclists

Chief Holgate of the local police gave a final warning to dog owners today that summonses will be issued shortly for those who have not procured the necessary tags for their dogs. Tags are available at the Town office and the by-law covering the tax imposes a fine of $1.00 and costs for those owners whose dogs are without licenses.
